

NATIONAL CENTRE OF IMPLEMENTATION SCIENCE

NCOIS Internal News – July 2021

We acknowledge the Traditional Owners of the lands on which we live and work. We pay our respects to Elders past, present and emerging.

Follow us on Twitter and tag @NCOISAustralia in your Implementation Science tweets.

Head to NCOIS HQ for brand guidelines, templates, meeting minutes, newsletters and more.

CENTRE NEWS

March – June Reports: Summary

The March- June NCOIS report for 2021 has recently been completed.

This report is shared with our Chief Investigators and contributes to our annual report. We also use the information for our communication strategy to promote and share the work of the centre.

A summary of key achievements is below – Congratulations to everyone for your awesome efforts!

March - June 2021 Summary

USEFUL INFORMATION

Please submit any articles, events or other opportunities to NCOIS Operations Manager, Meghan Finch.

Upcoming training

The University of Newcastle has some interesting and relevant workshops coming up.

Knowledge Translation:

- RECOMMENDED Infographics 101 - Communicating your Research in other ways – Tuesday, August 3
- RECOMMENDED Using Plain English to maximise your impact – Thursday, August 26
- Writing for 'The Conversation' – Friday, August 27
- RECOMMENDED Publication to Policy – Tuesday, September 7

Research Career Development:

- Imposter Syndrome – Thursday, July 29
- Getting the Most out of Supervision – Thursday, August 5

NCOIS July KT Round Up

Rachel Sutherland's SWAP IT team

have been in the media sharing lunchbox swap resources and promoting SWAP IT's collaboration with the Skoolbag app via The Conversation and several prominent newspapers including The Sunday Telegraph, The West Australian and The Newcastle Herald.

Tepi McLaughlin also spoke with hosts of ABC Newcastle Breakfast, Dan Cox and Jenny Marchant, about healthy lunchbox food swaps and parental acceptance of the SWAP IT app. Take a listen.

Nicole Nathan's PACE team outline their protocol and key findings from the PACE trial in a BJSM blog 'Schools need more than just a policy, they need support too'

Final call: Capacity Building Committee

Do you want an opportunity to work with other researchers and get to know our partners? The Heart Foundation, Health and Wellbeing QLD, CCLHD and MNCLHD have joined the Committee.

Are you interested in shaping our Centre's development opportunities?

If this sounds good, please email Meghan Finch by Wed the 28th of July. The Committee's Terms of Reference can be found here.

Thank you for reading the July edition of NCOIS Internal News.

If you would like to contribute any events, papers, or other items of interest to the NCOIS Internal Newsletter, please email them to the NCOIS Centre Manager, Meghan Finch.

The Great Implementation Debate

Guest presenters
Emeritus Professor Adrian Bauman, Professor Heather McKay,
Professor Luke Wolfenden, Dr Nicole Rankin, Dr Andrew Milat, Dr Rachel Sutherland

The Great Implementation Debate

Register for this online debate held on the 20th August, 2021.

Luke Wolfenden and Rachel Sutherland will be debating implementation science, implementing and scaling up interventions.

Grants & Funding

The University of Newcastle is hosting professional development opportunities to assist with grant writing, later in 2021.

- Pre Grant Writing Circle – Wednesday, Oct 27
- NHMRC Investigator Grants Lessons Learned – Thursday, November 4
- What's New and Lessons Learned for inclusion in the 2022 ARC Discovery Projects – Monday, November 16

Please Note Centre Communication Changes

Over the next few weeks the Centre Operations Team will be modifying communications.

We will continue monthly Internal Newsletters to update you with any Centre-specific information, and local professional development opportunities.

In addition, you will receive a more regular email summary of national and international professional development.